New Masters 49

I started my adventure in amateur radio in 1962 when I was licensed as, WV6YER. I've enjoyed the hobby off and on since then. In addition to the above call I also have held the calls, N7OGR and W7WJH. When I retired in 2006, I decided to get back into ham radio on a more consistent basis. I hadn't been too active for about 5 years and really wanted to have some fun on the air again. My last business took too much of my time to really enjoy any hobbies, except for a few rounds of golf. I have made many friends in the years I have been active in amateur radio. I have had the opportunity to meet many of the folks I now communicate with. It's always nice to put a face with the voice.

Among a few other interests, I enjoy spending time with the grandkids, golfing, sailing, hunting, camping, and traveling.

It was exactly 3 years ago, on December 6th, that I first checked into the 3905CCN. It started off as a check in to check out my new station configuration. Everyone that made contact with me were very courteous, made me feel welcome and encouraged me to come back. I got hooked and the rest is history. My first contact was with Bob, KI7PM, on 12/06/06 on the 40m SSB early net. My last needed contact was with Chris, ON7CD, on 11/21/09, on the 75m SSB late net.

I owe a special thanks to many. First, to all you members who made contact with me and sent in your QSL cards. It's your participation in the net that makes any and all of these awards possible. Thank you very much. Secondly, to the Buro managers, Richard, Gene, and Ron, for your dedication in providing such a valuable service. Yours is a true labor of love and dedication to the Club.

Thirdly to Randy, KJ4JC and Dave, NX7F, for your help and encouragement in getting me back into the CW mode. Without your persistence in getting me there, I probably would not have done it. To Paul, NN5G, Thank you for your help in getting my last DX contact on 75m.

To Dean, Rick and Al for providing the software and sites to make the operations on the net so much more efficient. A very special thank you to my 7th Area Awards Manager, Dave, WQ1H, for your time in checking all my applications. Boy, what a job. You were very efficient in getting them checked and out to the Awards Sec in a very timely fashion. Another fine example of dedication to the club. To Ronnie, NC4RS and Mike, K4NOP, for your service as Awards Secretary and Assistant. Sec. You guys rock. You have a lot on your plate in these positions and do it so very well. To Jim, KB3PU, for your dedication and excellent work as the web master. Thank you.

I am very fortunate to have an understanding xyl, Bev, K7QLT. I have spent many hours on the air with the 3905CCN and she has been very supportive of me. Of course, it also gives her more time at her hobby of quilting. I can't emphasize enough the importance of having a partner who so understanding.

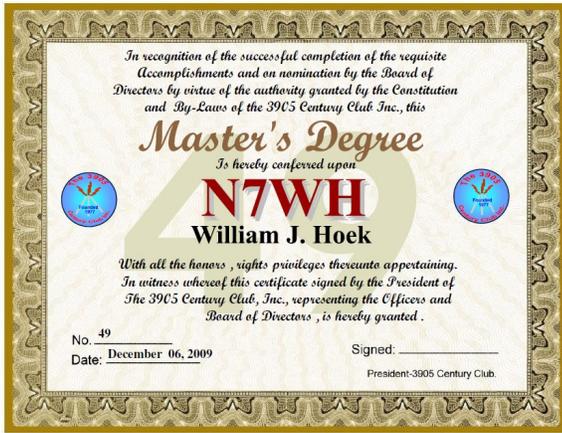

I have been active in several organized groups in amateur radio. Western Country Cousins #1975, HHH Net # 432, QWCA member, FARM Net NCS & net manager, Noontime net NCS and several others. All of them fine groups to be associated with. The 3905CCN is, in my opinion, is the best run and most well organized net in amateur radio. It's not only been a lot of fun, but also a great learning experience. Without the net I probably would not have gotten into PSK, RTTY or CW. I look forward to continuing my affiliation with the Club through attaining other fine awards and assisting as NCS and helping out when and where I am needed.

It's an honor to be a Master and I am proud to be among the circle of Masters.

Again thank you all for your continued support in the Club.

GETTING OLD

The other day a young person asked me how I felt about being old. I was taken aback, for I do not think of myself as old (remember, I have this 25 year old living in my head). Upon seeing my reaction, she was immediately embarrassed, but I explained that it was an interesting question, and I would ponder it, and let her know.

Old age, I decided, is a gift. I am now, probably for the first time in my life, the person I have always wanted to be. Oh, not my body! I sometime despair over my body—the wrinkles, the baggy eyes, and the sagging behind. And often I am taken aback by that old person that lives in my mirror, but I don't agonize over those things for long.

I would never trade my amazing friends, my wonderful life, and my loving family for less gray hair or a flatter belly. As I've aged, I've become kinder to myself, and less critical of myself. I've become my own friend. I don't chide myself for eating that extra cookie (sugar free of course), or for not making my bed, or for buying that silly cement gecko that I didn't need, but looks so avante garde on my patio. I am entitled to overeat, to be messy, to be extravagant. I have seen too many dear friends leave this world too soon; before they understood the great freedom that comes with aging.

Whose business is it if I choose to read until 4 a. m. and sleep until noon? I will dance with myself to those wonderful tunes of the 60's, and if I at the same time wish to weep over a lost love, I will. I will walk the beach in a swim suit that is stretched over a sagging body, and will dive into the waves with abandon if I choose to, despite the pitying glances from the bikini set. They, too, will get old.

I know I am sometimes forgetful. But there again, some of life is just as well forgotten - and I eventually remember the important things. Sure, over the years my heart has been broken. How can your heart not break when you lose a loved one, or when a child suffers, or even when a beloved pet gets hit by a car? But broken hearts are what give us strength and understanding and compassion. A heart never broken is pristine and sterile and will never know the joy of being imperfect.

I am so blessed to have lived long enough to have my hair turn gray, and to have my youthful laughs be forever etched into deep grooves on my face. So many have never laughed, and so many have died before their hair could turn silver. I can say "no", and mean it. I can say "yes", and mean it. As you get older, it is easier to be positive. You care less about what other people think. I don't question myself anymore. I've even earned the right to be wrong.

So, to answer your question, I like being old. It has set me free. I like the person I have become. I am not going to live forever, but while I am still here, I will not waste time lamenting what could have been, or worrying about what will be. And I shall eat dessert or a bedtime snack every single day.

Thanks guys !

Glen started in early June dropping hints to Dwayne that the CA Eyeball was the place to be. After lots of discussion, it was decided that this would be a great trip for Dwayne Jr. Glen was reminiscing a trip with his family in 1960 at age 16 with his family and thought this was a great opportunity for “D the younger” to get some experiences under his belt. After communications with mom & dad, it was decided that this might just work.

Big D & D the younger arrived in NE on July 26th. D the younger was asked what he thought about NE since this was his first time in that state. “I think that state is after me!” Asked why he felt that way, he said “It’s the corn, their stalking me!” Ok folks remember D the younger is only 13 and the pun was kind of funny coming from a 13 year old.

1st stop was NE/KS (already had worked mobile but was an opportunity to test the equipment & check inventory). While Dwayne was setting up the antenna’s Glen taught D the younger to pitch tents and fire up the grill. This ended up to be D the younger’s main job when arriving at new locations. This should keep our intrepid Hams’ on schedule for the nets. Team work on this expedition is paramount!

Next stop Dodge City, KS. While you might think with the history of this town you would find plenty to do, but it’s not much of a tourist stop. Old Dodge City board walk isn’t as our travelers found worth the price of admission. However they did find a good place to have dinner just across the way. Glen did comment on the good service and great steaks they had there but was not overly excited about Dodge City.

Off to OK/TX/NM line, since the earlier Aug trip was sort of a bust for this location. However it was not much better this time. Storms kept them off until 40m late net and heard nothing on 75m. For our travelers this location has a bad track record. Though Glen said it was still a pretty good location. “You just have to time it right, and well our timing hasn’t been worth a darn.” Give it another try later and we wish you luck Glen.

Picture taken from the Aug 08 trip the next morning

After having a well less than successful engagement at the TX/OK/NM tri-state onward they went into the night. Driving in shifts and making a few rest stops, the threesomes travels went on to cross the great continental divide at Wolf's Creek Pass. If you haven't listened to JW McCall's song Wolf Creek Pass, you need to. It really gives you a true sense of how steep this pass REALLY is, they stated.

Next our travelers stopped near Durango, Co to visit Glen's step family. After several years of not seeing Glen or as they better know him, Keith, the family ended up kidnapping everyone and forced them to eat a good dinner and sleep in nice beds after getting much needed showers. So they didn't get to run Mesa Verde National Park as planned. However as part of Glen's plan Big D and D the younger took the Silverton train ride from Durango to Silverton.

This was D the younger's first time on a coal fired steam locomotive. "It was pretty kewl. I have seen these trains in old cowboy movies." D the younger said. "It was neat riding along up the mountains but I have to admit I was pretty nervous. The train rocked back and forth and I thought it was going to derail. We were going over some pretty high bridges and rode along side of some pretty steep cliffs." However D the younger loved seeing all the sights and really enjoyed himself. He even made some friends with other kids on the train his same age.

One of the most memorial events on the ride for D the younger was "Two guys along the river mooning the train, "That was stupid and gross. What was really funny, were the ladies on the train whooping and hollering for the mooners to "take it all off." That was just sick!" stated D the younger

Some education our young traveler was getting, huh?

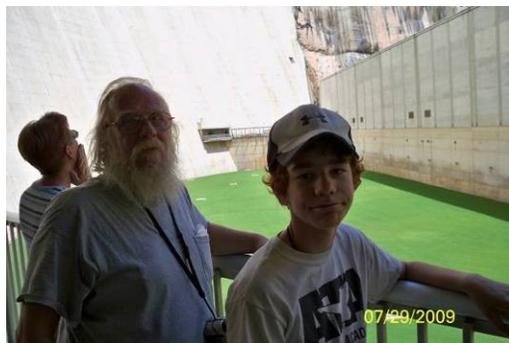

One more side trip before getting on the road was a visit to Mesa Verde National Park.

After the short visit (drive through) of Mesa Verde National Park, our travelers made it to the 4 Corners. "4 Corners was a hoot" they agreed, with over 100 contacts each @ 12 cards each, contributed to writer's cramps for Dwayne and Glen later. Hope every one had a good time working them on 4 states at once with 3 calls for each of them!

Later they went to see Glen Canyon Dam, lots of great scenery in CO. An interesting note about the Glen Canyon Dam is that when Glen was on the trip with his family nearly 50 years before, the dam was just in its early building stages. Glen really enjoyed seeing the dam again but this time finished and fully operational.

Next they camped at Grand Canyon National Park and made a few contacts.

Neither of the D's had been to the Grand Canyon before, so this was a chance of a life time for both of them. Glen made sure that everyone got an eye full of the canyon at sunset and sunrise. Little D as he has become better known, remarked, "IT'S Just a Big hole! But you have to love how the designer decorated it." Definitely a must see for anyone.

Mobiles on the Century Club

These are valuable contacts so next time you work a mobile tell them " thanks for being there "

Next they stayed at a casino in Laughlin, NV. Little D, didn't want to go out with Glen and Big D to work contacts from the state line and stayed in the hotel playing video games and watching TV. He was not impressed, since he was not allowed to leave the room and go play in the casino. Wait till your 21 little man. The Casino had great rates, good food and had a very nice hotel. Glen and Dwayne were only minutes away and worked from the NV/CA line. The next morning Little D was watching cartoons and the Show Ed, Edd and Eddy was on. The one Ed is known as Double D on the show so hence the new name for the traveling Trio, "The Glen and Double D road show."

Since the second trip Dwayne and Glen have been doing a different kind of tourism. Both enjoy watching the Food Network and one of the shows that they both like is Guy Fieri's Drive-ins, Diners and Dives. During their first trip they stopped at two of the featured establishments. The first was Sweetie Pie's in St. Louis, "Man, that was great food, great service and at a super price." Dwayne remarked "One day I've got to go back." The second was a little diner not far from Dwayne's old stomping grounds in Pittsburgh, Pa and a place he remembers being about two blocks from its current location.

These little side trips are now a tradition for Glen and Dwayne and of course on this trip to the eyeball two additional stops were planned.

After leaving the NV/CA line they stopped in an old truck stop in Victorville where Little D got hooked on these little dinners excursions. "There was too much for me to finish and I was hungry" Little D said. He took a doggie bag along and finished the food later. 13 year olds are always eating.

As mentioned in the September Centurion the 2009 California Eyeball great place, with great food and lots of great people. Truly "A good time was had by all."

Ever wondered where ever one is ?

This map show the concentration of Amateur Radio Operators in the US .

Big D and as some remember him on VE4ABU's chat as Slim (which he is anything but) was renamed. With that Grizzly look, and the snoring of a bear, we had to call him something other than Slim. By the way his snoring kept Ray's, W6EST, killer rabbits away at the eyeball camp ground. Poor Ray was nearly mauled by those 3 ft tall man eating bunnies the night before. Dwayne is now affectionately known as "Griz". He may look and sound rough but he is just a big Teddy Bear. But don't say that to his face he might give you one of his Grizzly growls.

Glen and Griz really enjoyed meeting everyone at the eyeball. Both were surprised when during the awards program of the eyeball dinner, they received "Leisure Mobile of the Year." As Pete, NJ9T said it was hard to pick a leisure mobile of the year with so many of our members out this year. Shep, KC2PUF, the Tribo (Jackie, Kevin and Zach) and many others did a great job of putting mobile contacts out this past year. It should be said that this is not only the year for Master but also the year of the Mobiles.

For those at the eyeball that got the rare glimpses of Little D you know he is an adventuresome boy and full of energy. The Antique Gas and Steam Engine Museum was just the right place for Little D to have fun and stay entertained. It was nice of him to keep our Eyeball hosts young son company also.

Little D found the Blacksmiths shop, how surprising is that? "Boys, dirt and fire, need I say more" Commented Big D. When he did finally return for dinner looking like he had been rolling round in the coal pits. Dad understood but was not overly impressed and sent Little D to get cleaned up. After several trips to the rest room Little D was "presentable."

Glen and the Double D road show want to thank Loren, his family and friends for putting on a great eyeball and they look forward to seeing everyone again maybe at the next eyeball in MS.

Before heading north to Yosemite National Park, Glen wanted to show Little D the Pacific Ocean. So off our travelers went to Ocean Side, CA.

Since little D had never seen an ocean no less been in one, this was a great experience for him. Glen's one rule about the ocean was that Little D could not get in the truck unless he was soaked!

Little D remarked on how funny it felt when the waves washed the sand out from under his feet. "I thought I was going to get sucked out to the middle." What he doesn't realize is the middle is way out there in the Pacific. Little D had a great time and since this was his first time in the Ocean it was something really great. "I got to have fun and even tried body surfing. But to be honest I was kind of scared as I am not that great of a swimmer but knew my Dad would rescue me if I got into trouble. You know he is a scuba diver and has dived in the Atlantic and in Saudi." Big D has been diving in Saudi, in Half Moon Bay on the eastern coast of Saudi and many other places.

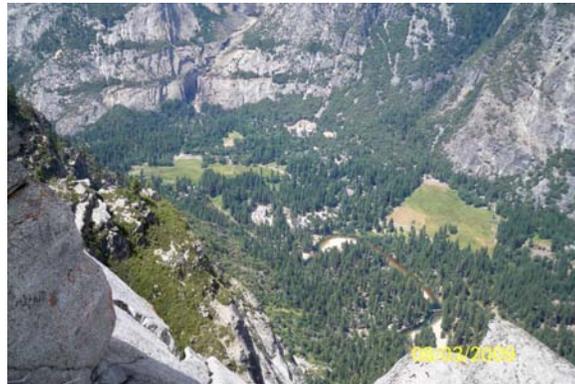

The Yosemite Creek campground is a good place if you are in the park without reservations. Be prepared for some rough narrow roads and get there early as it is first come first serve. The location was off an old mining road that was once partially paved and is only single lane. If you like your Martini's shaken not stirred this is a good road to mix then on.

This site was located near a nice mountain steam and of course Little D had his swim trunks. "Hey dad, Mr. Glen, can I go swimming in the steam" Little D asked? Before Griz could answer, Glen said with a quick wink to Griz "sure go ahead have fun."

As the boy ran off, Glen turned to Griz and said he won't be in that steam long."

About 5 minutes from the time the boy got the go ahead, changed, ran back and forth to the steam he was back nearly BLUE and screaming "WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL ME IT WAS THAT COLD!"

Laughing hard Glen replied "Boy what do you expect that water was snow only a few hours ago?" Griz was too busy laughing with tears in his eye to answer the radio for about 10 minutes.

For those who might not know it, in Glen's younger days, he was an avid hang glider. The picture above is of Glacier Point in Yosemite National Park. There is a 3000ft drop to the valley were Glen sailed off years ago. We are still wondering if he had too hard of a landing....maybe on his head?

Northward bound again, Nevada and Oregon were run on the fly with Boise, ID as the next destination. Glen's sister and family hosted the group for two days while meetings were made with Steve, K7QHU, Bill, N7WH, and Jake, NF7T at another Drive-ins Diners & Dives place and saw a few of Glen's old Idaho friends and relatives.

Near the convergence of the Snake and Clearwater rivers is a good place to run the ID/WA line even on a rainy night.

Picture taken from the opposite side of where they operated from due to a wrong turn

Driving all night in the rain through northern Idaho the group made its way to Yellowstone Park and found a place to run the MT/WY line within the park near the north entrance.

Little D had a great wake up call the next morning as Griz shook him and told him to be very quiet. When he came out of the tent he found he was surrounded by a herd of Elk. Little D said, “Dad we need to have a gun with us now so we could shoot one and have that for breakfast.” Griz had to remind Little D that hunting Elk in a National Park gets you a free ride to jail. But well after brats, spam and eggs and cold beans on this trip the boy wanted something a little meatier. What he didn’t know was he would soon get his wish.

On the trip back to NE a stop was made in WY to visit with John, WK7K (K7STM). Now what few know is that Glen wanted to run mobile from North Dakota, but since the Glen and DD road show got another one of those passing comments made....“pity your not coming this way I would put on some nice fresh steaks.” With an offer like that the travelers detoured to South East Wyoming. “John was a great host and served up some of his finest beef for us” Griz remarked. “When Little D saw that steak his eyes were nearly as big. He did his best not to waste a bite.” John was gracious enough to let them bed down for the night. With a big Thank You from the trio they were on the road again, flying low under the radar back to Glen’s.

Over 13,000 miles traveled and nearly 15,000+ QSL cards for each the Glen and DD road show came to an end.

Additional comments from Glen WT0A

This has been a great year for me, in general as well as in ham radio and especially the 3905 Century Club.

The trips were huge fun and I owe a lot to Dwayne for his help in planning and implementing them. A co-driver was essential to make trips of this scope and The "Griz" is a great traveling companion.

On the California trip, it was extra rewarding to have Dwayne Jr. along. It reminded me of a trip with my parents when I was a teen. We visited many of these same places and it was a treat to share this experience with Little D.

This year was also special in the earning the Masters award. That was truly icing on the cake. Many thanks to all 3905CC participants as this would not have been possible without the contacts and the help from all.

Along the way we picked up another nasty habit; eating. I had been watching Diners, Drive-ins and Dives with Guy Fieri on Food Network and we decided to try a few of the featured places. It makes a great side hobby when traveling.

On our first trip, I was grateful for the opportunity to visit with my friend Ray. Ray was a special friend of mine and became a dear friend to Dwayne "Griz". I will miss him very much.

I plan to attend the MS/LA Eyeball next summer and I hope to get to meet a lot more of our members. Also I still have a lot of states to operate from so keep listening for WT0A/mobile.

Thanks
Glen

Additional comments from Dwayne KD4POJ

I have to echo what Glen said, it's been a great year. It was really fun to travel with him to 30 states and nearly 13,000 miles. Even though I have traveled around the Globe, this year I have been to many new states and new places. It was also a treat to finally meet many of the Century Club members I have been talking with for nearly 8 years. I hope that in the coming years I can get to meet many more of you.

Glen says that I was a great help to him but I really think it was the other way around. Glen did a lot of the planning for most of the trips; I just did the navigating to keep us on track. Glen was also the time keeper so that we stayed on track. Glen is right though, a co-driver is a must on long trips like we did this year.

I also have to say that Glen is a great friend and has a wealth of knowledge to share which makes him an excellent travel companion. I want to thank him for insisting that we take my son on the trip to the CA Eyeball. That is something that I can't thank him enough for and an experience that my son will never forget. Thanks Glen!

As for the MS/LA Eyeball next summer, well I am sure that Glen will start twisting my arm to go. I do need to run AR mobile. Just not sure what will be going on, but you never know. So maybe we get to meet a lot of the other club members next year.

One last thing, Thanks to Larry K7MI for all his relay help and running a lot of the nets during our run out west. Without him we would not have been able to give out a lot of those western states.

Thanks,
Dwayne, KD4POJ
